Dear Microsoft Settlement:

The Microsoft trial was always just one more of the ongoing trial lawyer witch hunts. It is high time for this trial to be over. In a hundred years, the people involved in witch hunts such as the tobacco trials, and the Microsoft trial, will be reviled and despised with the same feelings we have today for the bogts who burned witches at the stale. And the investors who propel our economy can finally breathe a sigh of relief, even as the innocent victims of the previous witch hunts finally found peace.

Upwards of 60% of Americans thought the federal government should not have broken up Microsoft. If the case is finally over, companies like Microsoft can get back into the business of serving consumers, and not wasting valuable resources on litigation.

Thank you for this opportunity to share my views on the disgusting behavior of America's courts and its slimey lawyers.

Regards,

Dean Stephens
